Dorri McWhorter is a thought-leader that has demonstrated success in providing risk consulting and internal audit services. Dorri is an experienced professional with a background in enterprise risk management, management consulting, business process improvement, and internal control design. Dorri is a partner with Crowe Horwath LLP, a top 10 public accounting firm. She is responsible for managing client relationships and providing business solutions to her clients. Dorri is significantly involved in supporting Crowe's international professional services network, Crowe Horwath International. Dorri works with member firms in the global network to develop and deliver risk consulting services around the world.

Dorri has significant experience implementing major change initiatives. Prior to joining Crowe, Dorri was head of the internal audit function for Snap-on Incorporated, a $3 billion, NYSE-listed organization, where she led the worldwide compliance effort for the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Dorri's strategic vision and efforts to transform the Internal Audit function to a cost effective, world-class function resulted in significant cost savings for the organization. The transformation effort also strengthened Internal Audit's relationships with Senior Management and the Board of Directors by providing more information about the risks and improvement opportunities within Snap-on. In addition to Snap-on, Dorri has used her knowledge to identify and support process improvement in many organizations. Dorri gained her experience while in consulting roles with the following organizations: Arthur Andersen, Booz Allen and Hamilton, and Catholic Healthcare Audit Network (CHAN).

Dorri is very active in the accounting and internal audit profession. She has authored white papers and frequently speaks on corporate governance, enterprise risk management, and internal controls. She has won the contributing author of the year for New Perspectives Magazine for healthcare internal auditors for her articles about Sarbanes-Oxley and enterprise risk management. Dorri was also the recipient of the Illinois CPA Society Outstanding Leadership in Advancing Diversity Award. Dorri is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Minority Initiatives Committee and the Illinois CPA Society. Other professional affiliations include Economics Club of Chicago, National Association of Black Accountants (NABA), Executives Club of Chicago (New Leaders Board Member), and Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA). Dorri is on the advisory board for Roosevelt University's Walter E. Heller College of Business Administration.

Dorri is also involved in the community. She serves on the Board of the YWCA of Metropolitan Chicago as a Vice-President. Other board memberships include the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Illinois, Chicago Architecture Foundation, and Chicago Child Care Society. Dorri is also a "Lifetime Chicago City Friend" for Boardroom Bound, a 501(c)(3) organization whose goal is to restore public trust in Corporate America by preparing a new generation of diverse, independent director-candidates. Dorri was selected as a Chicago United Business Leader of Color and one of Diversity MBA Magazine's Top 100 under 50 Diverse Executive and Emerging Leaders.

Dorri is a certified public accountant (CPA) and certified internal auditor (CIA). She holds a bachelor of business administration (BBA) in Accounting from the University of Wisconsin and a master of business administration (MBA) from the executive MBA program at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management.
